INTRODUCTION.

THE SAINT ANDREW'S SOCIETY of Saint John, New Brunswick, was instituted in 1798. On the 8th day of March in that year a number of gentlemen — natives of Scotland and of Scottish descent — met together and agreed to form themselves into a Society for benevolent purposes.

They adopted a Constitution, and elected the following Members to serve for the first year as Office-Bearers of the institution :

WILLIAM PAGAN, President.

WILLIAM CAMPBELL, Vice-President.

FRANCIS GILBERT, Treasurer.

JOHN BLACK, Secretary.

The First Quarterly Meeting was held on the 3d day of May, A. D., 1798, and from that time down to the present the Quarterly and Anniversary Meetings have been regularly held and punctually attended, and the purposes for which it was established have been found to be fully answered.

A social and friendly intercourse among the natives of Scotland and their descendants has been promoted and maintained, and many deserving objects have been relieved by its bounty.

Its Members gradually increased, and it has included many worthy of remembrance in its lists. It is at present composed of about one hundred and seventy-five Members, besides those who are considered as Honorary; but as a list of all who have belonged to the Society since its origin, and whose names are found on its records, may be interesting to some, such a list has been prepared, and is annexed, together with a list of its Officers since 1798.

The funds of the Society have gradually accumulated, from legacies left by members of the Society, and from the income occasionally being above the expenditure, especially in the early period of its existence, and from the surplus (agreeably to the 4th Rule of the Constitution) being safely invested on interest, it at present forms a respectable capital of about Five Thousand Dollars.

The annual income of the Society for the last few years averages about Six Hundred and Fifty Dollars, and the expenditure has been nearly to the same amount; but if the dues were more regularly paid, and the same benevolent spirit which brought the Society into existence more widely diffused, the Society's bounty would extend to many who do not now come within its reach.

By an Act of Assembly, passed in 1864, the Society became a legally incorporated body.

The Constitution of 1798 has been necessarily revised and amended at different times to suit circumstances; the present Constitution, as it now appears, having been adopted at the Quarterly Meeting in May, 1880.

Such is a brief account of THE SAINT ANDREW'S SOCIETY OF SAINT JOHN, NEW BRUNSWICK; and it is believed if its Members would communicate the situation and character of the Society to all those who are entitled to join them, by birth or descent, a new stimulus would be given to an institution entirely, though silently, devoted to purposes of Benevolence.

PREAMBLE.

AS every institution calculated for the charitable relief and assistance of our fellow-creatures in distress is commendable, and as people falling into want and misfortune in any part of the world remote from the place of their nativity are naturally ready to apply for aid to those originally from the same country, the natives of Scotland and their descendants in the City of Saint John have agreed to form themselves into a Society, the principal design of which is to keep in readiness a sum of money for the above laudable purpose; and the more effectually to carry this design into execution they have established the following Rules for their regulation and government.

SECTION I.

Of the Name and Seal of the Society.

THE Society shall be known and distinguished as the "SAINT ANDREW'S SOCIETY OF SAINT JOHN, NEW BRUNSWICK," and the Seal now used by the Society; viz., a Silver Seal with a Thistle and Crown, and the Motto, "Nemo me impune lacessit," shall be continued, subject to the regulations hereafter mentioned.

In no case can a candidate be elected at the Meeting at which he is proposed.

Entrance Fee.—Every Member, when elected, shall immediately subscribe the Rules, and pay into the hands of the Secretary a sum of money, not less than Two Dollars, as entrance fee.

"SAINT ANDREW'S SOCIETY,

"Saint John, New Brunswick.

"THIS IS TO CERTIFY that A. B. has been a regular Member of the SAINT ANDREW'S SOCIETY OF SAINT JOHN, N. B., during the last — years; and being about to remove from this City, is recommended to the favorable consideration of all similar Societies, and of Scotchmen everywhere."

SECTION III.

Of the Officers of the Society and their Duties.

To constitute an election each Officer must receive more than half of the votes cast.

When more than two candidates are in the field, and neither has a plurality of all the votes cast, the lowest on the poll shall be struck off and a new ballot taken, and should the second ballot have a similar result, the lowest shall again be dropped; this process to continue until there are only two candidates before the Meeting.

Duty of the President. — The President shall, when he is present, preside in all Meetings of the Society, preserve order, put the question, and declare the decision. He shall call a Special Meeting of the Society whenever he shall judge it proper, or upon the requisition of any ten Members, made in writing. He shall appoint the place of all Meetings, and shall sign all orders on the Treasurer.

Duty of the Vice-President.— The duties specified in the foregoing clause shall, in the absence of the President, devolve on the first Vice-President, and in his absence on the second Vice-President.

Duty of the Chaplain.— The Chaplain shall attend the Meetings and perform such duties as become the dignity and well-being of the Society.

Duty of the Treasurer.— The Treasurer shall have the custody of the money, bonds, and other securities of the Society, and shall keep regular accounts of his receipts and expenditures, in suitable books provided for that purpose. He shall, at each Quarterly Meeting, produce his books for inspection and examination. All money paid by him must be by orders signed by the President; or, in his absence, the first Vice-President; or, in the absence of both, by the second Vice-President; or, in their absence, by the Committee of Charity.

Duty of the Secretary.— The Secretary shall have the custody of all the records, journals, seal, snuff-boxes, and other badges of the Society. He shall make a regular entry of all the proceedings at each Quarterly and Special Meeting, with the names of the members present; keep a list of the Members of the Society, and an account of the fees and dues that accrue; shall collect the same and hand the amounts to the Treasurer, taking his receipt therefor. He shall notify the resident and life Members of all Meetings of the Society, and appoint a messenger for the delivery of the notices.

Duty of the Marshal.—The Marshal, under the direction of the President, shall superintend the wearing and adjustment of the badges of the Office-Bearers and Members, and direct the processions of the Society.

Duty of the Committee of Charity.—The Committee of Charity shall consist of three Members, who shall enquire into the claims, character, and circumstances of all such as apply for aid from the Society, whose circumstances are not known to the President or Vice-Presidents, and shall recommend such for relief as they find fit objects for the Society's bounty.

Who shall Vote or be Eligible for Office.—No Member shall be entitled to vote in the election of any officer, or be eligible to be elected to any office in this Society, until all his dues to the Society have been paid.

SECTION IV.

Order of Business.—At all meetings of the Society, after the President or Vice-President has taken the chair, the Rules shall be laid on the table for the perusal of the Members, and nothing shall be talked of but the business of the Society while the President keeps the chair. Whoever offends against this rule, after having been once reprimanded from the chair, shall forfeit twenty-five cents for the use of the Society.

3. PROPOSING CANDIDATES.
4. COLLECTING DUES.
5. REPORTS OF OFFICERS, COMMITTEES, AND OTHER COMMUNICATIONS.
6. ELECTION OF CANDIDATES.
7. UNFINISHED BUSINESS.
8. NEW BUSINESS.
9. ELECTION OF OFFICERS, ETC.

Order of Speaking.— Every Member shall address the presiding officer, and no Member shall speak more than once on the same subject, except by leave from the Chair, or to explain.

Mode of Decision.— The President, after discussion, shall put the question to vote, and in all cases a majority shall decide.

Penalty Refusing to Serve as Office-Bearers.— Any Member being elected to the office of President and refusing to act, shall forfeit Five Dollars; Vice-Presidents, Four Dollars; and all other Officers Two Dollars each, for the use of the Society; provided such Member so refusing has not served in the same office immediately preceding the election.

Death of Members.—On the death of a Member of the Society, the President, or, in his absence, one of the Vice-Presidents, shall, with the consent of the friends of the deceased, direct the Secretary to summon a Special Gathering of the Society for the purpose of attending the funeral; and on that day cause the flag of the Society to be displayed at half-mast.

Saint Andrew's Day.—As the benevolent views of the Society will be greatly promoted by a social intercourse among the Members, the Society shall hold an Anniversary Meeting on Saint Andrew's Day. The arrangements for the day to be decided by a majority of the votes at the Quarterly Meeting preceding the Anniversary.

Penalty Neglecting to Wear Saint Andrew's Cross.—Every Member who shall appear at the Anniversary Meeting without a Saint Andrew's Cross on his left breast shall forfeit Five Shillings for the use of the Society. When Saint Andrew's Day happens on Sunday, the 1st day of December shall be observed as the Festival.

SECTION V.

Funds.

Surplus Funds to be Lent on Good Security.—As charity for the relief of those in want is principally intended by this undertaking, all the money which from time to time shall be paid into the hands of the Treasurer, shall be used and applied to the best advantage for promoting that design; and if at any time there shall be more money in the stock than the present exigencies of the poor require, the Treasurer, at the desire and by request of the Society at any General or Quarterly Meeting, shall lend out the same at interest, on good security for the payment thereof, for any time not exceeding one year; which security shall be taken in the corporate name of the Society.

How this Charity is to be Applied.—The charity of the Society shall be applied in the following manner; viz., the President, or, in his absence, the Vice-President, or, in their absence, the Committee of Charity, shall have power to draw orders on the Treasurer for the time being, payable to such poor persons as they shall judge proper objects of the Society's charity, which the Treasurer shall immediately pay; provided always, that none but natives of Scotland and their descendants, and the widows of natives of Scotland, or the widows of descendants of natives of Scotland, shall be entitled to any part of this charity; provided also, that the sums so drawn for do not exceed two pounds to any one person during one quarter. Any larger sums required for the relief of the distressed to be applied for at the Quarterly Meeting of the Society, when the Members present shall decide by vote the amount to be given; provided the same do not exceed Five Pounds to any one person.

SECTION VI.

Dues.

Every resident Member of the Society shall pay quarterly into the hands of the Secretary a sum of money not less than sixty cents as dues; and any Member who shall refuse or neglect to pay his dues for two years, provided he has been called upon or notified to that effect, shall be considered as having withdrawn himself from the Society, and the Secretary may erase his name from the list of Members.

Exemption from Arrearages. — Any Member, however, whom a majority of the Members present at any November Meeting should consider in indigent circumstances, or unable to pay up arrearages, may be forgiven the same and continued as a Member on paying the current dues.

SECTION VII.

Constitution, and How to be Altered.

This Constitution shall be deemed the fundamental Articles and Rules of the Society, and shall not be altered otherwise than by consent of at least two-thirds of the Members regularly met at a Quarterly Meeting; provided also, that any Member proposing any amendment or change, shall give at least three months' previous notice in writing and lodge the same with the Secretary, who shall notify each Member of the nature thereof.

At a Meeting of the SAINT ANDREW'S SOCIETY of Saint John, New Brunswick, held at the Waverly Hotel on the 6th day of May, 1880, the foregoing Revised Constitution was submitted, and adopted as the CONSTITUTION OF THE SOCIETY.
